ITS Resource Center Home

Educational Support Services

Contact Information

Educational Technology Support
315-859-4877
course-support@hamilton.edu

Support Services

The Educational Technology Services Team (ETS) works with faculty to design, develop, and support the use of technology as part of the teaching and learning process. Our support services are delivered in collaboration with the HILLgroup (Hamilton Information and Learning Liaisons) and OCC (Oral Communications Center) to provide comprehensive, seamless support to faculty and students before and during a course. These services are designed to provide faculty with feasible course design and appropriate technology integration options. Contact us to discuss your needs and ideas: course-support@hamilton.edu or 859-4877.

Course Project Design and Delivery

Digital Video - Original footage or analytical clips, storyboarding, videography, language of film, capturing, editing, compressing, delivery in many formats

- Original Video
- Analytic Video

Digital Audio - Narratives, oral histories, and serialized podcasts

- Digital Audio

Digital Photo - Onscreen display or printed

- Digital Photos

Large Format Poster Printing - Visual literacy, poster design, PowerPoint for posters & printing

- Large Format Posters

GIS & Mapping - Geographic Information Systems and other mapping tools will help you locate, present, analyze, and interact with data that is geographically referenced.

- GIS, Maps and Spatial Thinking

Web and Social Software - Internet-based applications that support information creation, sharing, and collaboration.

- Websites
- Blogs
- Wikis (Google Docs)

To see examples of some technology-based course projects, visit our Technology in Teaching

Showcase.

Additional Supported Technologies

ETS is also responsible for supporting the following technologies:

Blackboard - Blackboard Learn is Hamilton's course management system.

Citrix - Citrix is a service for Windows software that provides access to Maple, SPSS, Stata, iThink and more SiteManager - SiteManager is an online application that supports creation of websites.

Last Updated: August 12, 2013