

ITS Resource Center Home

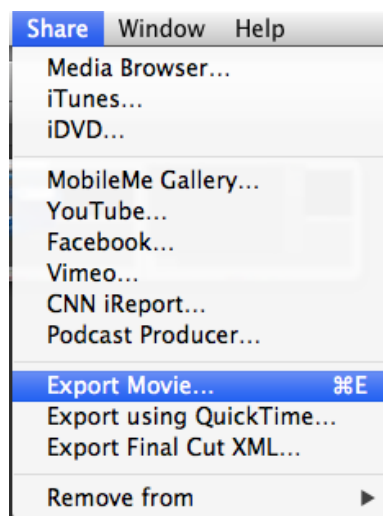

Exporting Video from iMovie '11

Contact Information

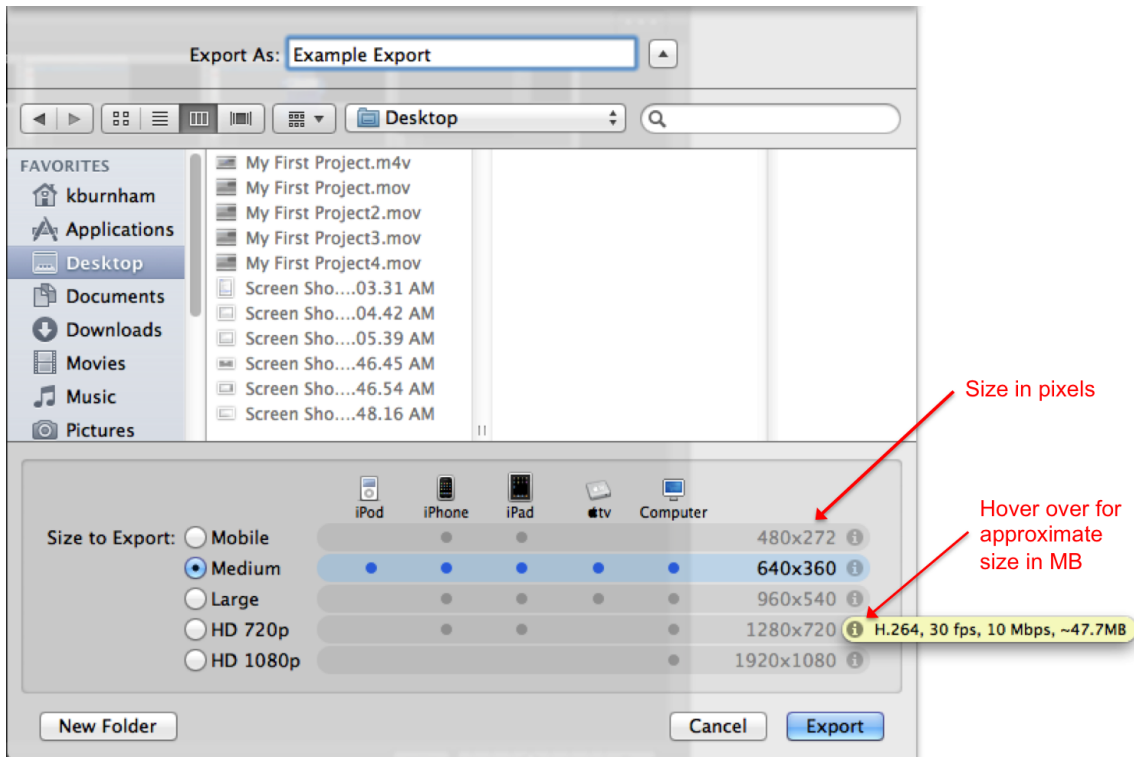

Educational Technology Support
315-859-4877
course-support@hamilton.edu

Exporting to File

When you are done editing your movie and are ready to export, go to the Share menu. For a simple and quick way to export a high-quality product, select Export Movie. This will bring up a window with some preset export options.

In the new window, notice the Size to Export field. This is where you can choose the display size of your exported movie. There are several preset sizes and hovering over the information symbol at the right of a selection displays its approximate file size in MB. From this window you can also name your file and select the save location. The default save location should be the downloads folder. The movie will be saved as the .m4v file type.

Exporting for DVD

When you are done editing your movie and are ready to export, go to the Share menu and select iDVD. This will open your project in iDVD, where you can select a DVD menu display and burn your movie to DVD.

Last Updated: June 17, 2014