President Joan Hinde Stewart

Joan Hinde Stewart assumed the Hamilton presidency on July 1, 2003. She was formerly dean of the College of Liberal Arts and professor of French at the University of South Carolina (USC). The first in her family to earn a college degree, Stewart also joined the Hamilton faculty as professor of French. She is the first female president in Hamilton’s more-than-190-year history.

Prior to her arrival at USC in 1999, Stewart was at North Carolina State University as a member of the faculty from 1973 to 1999 and chair of the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures from 1985 to 1997. She also served as assistant dean for research and graduate programs for the College of Humanities and Social Sciences. In 1988-89, Stewart chaired the North Carolina Humanities Council, and in 1977 she received the university’s Outstanding Teaching Award.

Before joining the NC State faculty, Stewart taught at Wellesley College. She received her Ph.D. from Yale University in 1970, having graduated summa cum laude in 1965 from St. Joseph’s College, a small, private, liberal arts institution in Brooklyn, New York.

Stewart’s scholarship focuses on 18th-century French literature, especially women writers. She has written several books and numerous articles, essays and book reviews, and has been a frequent speaker at professional conferences both in the United States and abroad. She is the recipient of fellowships from Yale University, the National Humanities Center and the National Endowment for the Humanities, and has been a fellow at the Université Paul Valéry in Montpellier, France, a visiting scholar at Oxford University in England, and a fellow at the Liguria Study Center for the Arts and Letters in Genoa, Italy.

Hamilton’s 19th president is married to Philip Stewart, the Benjamin E. Powell Professor of Romance Studies at Duke University. He has served as chair of romance studies and of Duke’s Academic Council, and is the former president of the American Association of Teachers of French. The Stewarts have a daughter, who is a graduate of Haverford College and has a Ph.D. in German at Indiana University in Bloomington, and a son, who is a graduate of Prescott College in Arizona.

Jon Hind

Director of Athletics

Jon Hind ’80 is in his sixth year as director of athletics at Hamilton College. Hind graduated from Hamilton with a bachelor’s degree in mathematics and economics.

Hind previously was associate athletic director for operations at Butler University. He worked in Butler athletics since 1991. He was Butler’s first head men’s lacrosse coach. Hind was named Division I coach of the year by the U.S. Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association after he guided the Bulldogs to the NCAA tournament in 1998.

Hind left coaching to become an athletic administrator at Butler in the fall of 1999. He assumed management responsibilities in marketing and promotions in July 2005, while continuing to oversee the department’s event management, facilities and budget. Hind was Butler’s interim athletic director from May through August in 2006.

Hind was head men’s lacrosse coach at the College of Wooster from 1986 to 1991. He played lacrosse and football at Hamilton. He was a four-year letter winner and two-time captain as a defenseman on the lacrosse team, and lettered in football as a sophomore. Hind earned a master’s degree in athletic administration from Kent State University in 1991. Hind and his wife Carol are the parents of two daughters, Kayleigh and Meghan.

Kerri Fagan

Assoc. Director of Athletics

Kerri Fagan is in her third year as the associate director of athletics at Hamilton College. Fagan had been the senior associate commissioner of the America East Conference since 2008. She directed the overall administration of 20 America East Conference sports and their championships.

Before joining America East, Fagan spent seven years with the NCAA. She was an associate director of championships from 2002 to 2008, and during that time she administered and managed four NCAA championships, including Division III field hockey and Division III women’s ice hockey. She served as a liaison to the Division III championships committee and was a member of the Division III governance team. From 2001 to 2002 she was an assistant director of championships for the NCAA, and she was responsible for six championships during that one season.

Fagan was the assistant director of athletics/senior woman administrator at Indiana State University from 1997 to 2001. She administered all aspects of event/facility management for 15 intercollegiate sports.

Fagan is a member of the National Association of Collegiate Women’s Athletics Administrators. She played varsity field hockey at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst and graduated with a bachelor’s degree in sport management in 1992. She earned her master’s degree in sport administration from the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse in 1995. She is from Burrillville, R.I.
About the College

Located in the foothills of the majestic Adirondack Mountains, the Hamilton campus is set on a hilltop that overlooks the Oriskany and Mohawk valleys of Central New York. The surroundings are rural and lush, consisting of rolling terrain, gentle hills, wooded glens, dairy farms, fine old houses and tree-lined streets. Yet Hamilton’s location puts it within easy range of New York, Toronto, Boston and other major northern metropolitan centers.

The College, chartered in 1812, is coeducational with approximately 1,800 students. Its strength lies in highly regarded academic programs administered by a deeply committed faculty who welcome close collaboration with students. Fundamental to a Hamilton education is the faculty’s expectation that each student develops the ability to read, observe and listen with critical perception, and to think, write and speak with clarity, understanding and precision.

Hamilton graduates can be found making important contributions in nearly every professional field, and because of the College’s educational contributions to their success, alumni remain enthusiastically loyal to and supportive of the College.

As reflected in applications for admission, Hamilton is considered one of the most selective liberal arts colleges in the country. And, because of the large number of applications that the College receives each year, the student body is unusually diverse. Students come to Hamilton from all parts of the United States — indeed, from all parts of the globe. In such an environment, students learn to appreciate differences and prepare for life in an increasingly global society.

In evaluating prospective students, the admission committee looks for academic achievement as well as personal accomplishments outside the classroom. Thus, both the athlete who excels on the playing field and the musician who participates in a community ensemble have the talents the College is seeking.
Athletic Facilities

Consistent with the classrooms, laboratories, libraries, studios and other facilities that support the academic program, Hamilton College's athletic facilities are exceptional by nearly any measure. The diversity and quality of these facilities emphasize the school's commitment to the development of both the mind and the body.

Steuben Field is home to Hamilton football and lacrosse. The 2,000-seat facility received major renovations in 2009, when an artificial grass surface was installed. The approximate cost of the upgrade was $1.35 million. The balance of the funds were contributed by Hamilton alumni and parents of current student-athletes.

Outdoor facilities on campus include the natural grass William D. Love Field used for men's and women's soccer; the Walter H. Pritchard Track; an artificial turf field for field hockey; the Royce Baseball Field; the Ferguson Intramural Softball Field and the nine-hole Tompkins Golf Course. The Russell Sage Rink, the Margaret Bundy Scott Field House, the William M. Bristol, Jr. Pool and the Little Squash Center are the indoor facilities. The $6.1 million squash facility opened in October of 2006 with 10 regulation-size courts, including two with exhibition gallery seating.

The Charlean and Wayland Blood Fitness and Dance Center opened in October 2006. The center houses a dance studio, room for aerobic/cardio training, space for resistance and weight-training, a multipurpose exercise room and a three-story climbing wall. The state-of-the-art facility triples the current space for fitness activities on a campus where approximately 75 percent of the student body -- and many members of the faculty and staff -- work out regularly.

Sports Medicine at Hamilton College

The Hamilton College sports medicine staff provides excellent medical care for all Continental athletes. The fully-equipped sports medicine clinic is located in Margaret Bundy Scott Field House and is convenient to all team locker rooms. The clinic moved to a 3,400 square-foot, $1 million renovated area in September 2006. The new clinic is four times larger than the old space and features a state-of-the-art rehabilitation center.

The program is under the direction of head certified athletic trainer Scott Siddon. Siddon is in his 19th year at Hamilton. He graduated with a degree from SUNY Cortland in 1992. Siddon went on to earn his master's from the University of Oregon in 1994.

Assistant certified athletic trainer Pat Giruzzi is in his 15th year on the staff. Giruzzi received his degree from Elmira College in 1998. Pat became a Registered Orthopedic Technologist (ROT) in 2007.

Stephanie Kowell is in her third year as an assistant at Hamilton, and has been a certified athletic trainer since 2008. Kowell received her degree in physical education with an emphasis in athletic training from SUNY Brockport in 2008, and earned her master's in education from Old Dominion University in 2010. She most recently worked at Fairleigh Dickinson University, and hails from the Syracuse area.

Kara McKeag is in her third year on Hamilton’s training staff. McKeag received a degree in athletic training from Springfield College in 2009 and her master's from East Stroudsburg University. She has athletic training experience at Lehigh University and most recently served an internship at The Ohio State University.

In addition to the full-time training staff, a dedicated group of student first responders assist in the daily operations of the athletic training facility. The sports medicine clinic is open from noon to 8 p.m. and other times by appointment on weekdays, and opens according to game and practice schedules on weekends.
Scott Barnard
Head Coach

Scott Barnard is in his eighth year as the head men’s lacrosse coach at Hamilton College. Barnard has a 53-46 record at Hamilton and he has guided the Continentals to four straight winning seasons. His players have received 25 all-conference honors, including three on the NESCAC all-conference team in 2013. Jon Leanos ‘12 was a first team All-America selection, the NESCAC player of the year and an Eastern College Athletic Conference Division III New England all-star in 2012.

In 2013, Barnard helped lead Hamilton to the NESCAC championship quarterfinals for the second year in a row. The Continentals ended up 9-6 overall and tied for fifth place in the conference standings with a record of 5-5. Mike Fiacco ‘13 became the third Hamilton player in two years to appear in the U.S. Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association (USILA) Division III Senior North-South Game and was the second player with USILA scholar All-America team honors under Barnard. Six players made the NESCAC spring all-academic team.

In 2012, the Continentals won eight of their last nine games en route to a 9-6 record, including 5-5 in the conference. Hamilton defeated two ranked teams, and seven student-athletes made the NESCAC spring all-academic team. In 2011, Barnard guided Hamilton to an 11-3 record, including 7-1 at home. The 11 wins were the most for the Continentals since 2006. His team performs several acts of community service every year. Corbin Brown ‘11 formed Hamilton Against Hunger, which donates food not used by campus dining halls to a shelter in Utica.

Barnard was the head coach at Herkimer County Community College (HCCCC) from 2004 to 2006. He won national championships as a head coach, assistant coach and player at the National Junior College Association of America Division III school located in nearby Herkimer. Barnard guided HCCC to a national title in 2005 and the national championship game in 2004. His record was a sparkling 46-7 (.868 win pct.) as a head coach. He was an assistant at the school from 1996 to 2003 and helped HCCC win a Division III crown in 2003. Barnard coached at SUNY Cortland for two years prior to returning to Herkimer in August 1996.

Barnard was a captain on the 1992 Herkimer squad that went undefeated and won a national championship. He was a two-time NJCAA academic All-American at HCCC in 1991 and 1992. Barnard went on to star at the University of Delaware, where he made the North Atlantic Lacrosse Conference all-conference first team in 1993 and 1994 and was a team captain as a senior. He was inducted into the Jamesville-DeWitt High School Athletic Hall of Fame with the Class of 2008-09. Jamesville-DeWitt posted a record of 32-9 with one sectional and two league titles during his two seasons as team captain.

Barnard has a bachelor’s degree in physical education and he earned his master’s in education from Cortland. He resides in Chittenango with his wife Courtney and their four children: Collin, Brooke, Caleb and Brendon.

Drew Bezek
Assistant Coach

Drew Bezek is in his third year as an assistant coach for the Hamilton College men’s lacrosse team. Bezek was interim head coach for the Vassar College men’s lacrosse team in 2011. He led Vassar to the first Liberty League win in the Brewers’ 10-year history in the conference. A Vassar defenseman was an all-league selection.

Bezek was a four-year letter winner at NCAA Division II Le Moyne College from 2007 to 2010. He was voted the Division II defensive player of the year in both 2009 and 2010. Bezek was a three-time first team All-American from 2008 to 2010.

As a freshman in 2007, he helped the Dolphins capture the national championship, and post an overall record of 15-2. During the next three seasons, Le Moyne was a combined 46-5 and appeared in the NCAA title game each year. Bezek was credited with 93 ground balls for his career. In each of his first three seasons, Le Moyne led Division II in scoring defense.

Bezek graduated with a degree in business. He is from Lowville, N.Y., and attended Lowville High School.

Brandon Misiaszek
Assistant Coach

Brandon Misiaszek is in his third year as an assistant coach for the Hamilton College men’s lacrosse team.

Misiaszek was a four-year letter winner at NCAA Division III power SUNY Cortland from 2007 to 2010. The Red Dragons posted a 69-13 record during that span and appeared in the NCAA title game three times. Misiaszek was named the Most Outstanding Player of the 2009 national championship game when Cortland defeated Gettysburg College 9-7 for its second NCAA crown.

Misiaszek finished his career with 73 goals and 29 assists for 102 points. As a senior in 2010, he was named a third-team All-American at midfielder, and played in the Division III North-South college all-star game.

Misiaszek graduated from Cortland in 2010. He is from nearby New Hartford and attended New Hartford High School.
After playing in the NESCAC championship quarterfinals their first two years in the conference, the Hamilton College men’s lacrosse team aims to take the next step and advance to the semifinals in 2014. NESCAC all-conference midfielder Bryan Hopper ’14 and defenseman Dylan Lahey ’15 return to lead the team this year. John Zimmermann ’15 ranked fifth in assists (21) and 15th in points (37) in the conference in 2013. Meanwhile, Will Driscoll ’15 ranked third in the NESCAC with a 7.50 goals against average and .597 save percentage and was fifth with 151 saves. Mike Fiacco ’13 -- another all-conference defenseman who played in the U.S. Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association (USILA) Division III Senior North-South Game -- graduated and will be missed. Hopper and Chad Berger ’14 are the 2014 team captains.

The NESCAC is one of the top athletic conferences in NCAA Division III, and men’s lacrosse is no exception. The 2013 conference champ reached the national quarterfinals last year, and four NESCAC teams played in the 2012 NCAA championship and one advanced to the semifinals. The NESCAC boasts four NCAA titles and four national runner-up finishes in men’s lacrosse. The conference tournament champion receives an automatic bid to the NCAA championship.

Hamilton plays its home games at Steuben Field on the site’s artificial grass surface, which was installed in 2009. The Continentals open the 2014 home schedule against Wesleyan University on March 1. Other NESCAC home games include Bowdoin College (March 15), Bates College (March 29), Middlebury College (April 2) and Senior Day against Tufts University on April 5.

Defense was Hamilton’s strength in 2013 when the Continentals ranked second in the NESCAC with a 7.44 goals against average and 65.7 percent penalty-killing percentage and ended up third with a .600 save percentage. Hamilton finished with an overall record of 9-6 and tied for fifth place in the conference standings at 5-5. The Continentals went 5-1 at home and 2-2 against ranked teams. The season ended with an 8-6 setback at second-seeded Connecticut College in the NESCAC championship quarterfinals.

The first year in the NESCAC was a good one for Hamilton. The Continentals advanced to the 2012 NESCAC quarterfinals and ended up 9-6 overall with half of those six losses coming by one goal. Jon Leanos ’12 was voted the NESCAC player of the year and selected a first team All-American by the USILA. Luke Sadoff ’12 was named to the all-conference second team and he and Leanos played in the USILA Senior North-South Game. Hamilton won eight out of its last nine regular season games and defeated two ranked opponents.

The Class of 2012 won 33 games at Hamilton. Leanos finished fourth all-time with 179 points and tied for fourth place with 92 assists. Henry Burchenal ’12 ended up third with 106 career goals, and Max Vaičkus ’12 made 473 saves in his career to land in fourth place on the program’s all-time list. Paul Citarella ’12 won 339 faceoffs, Sadoff scored 50 goals and Garrett Akie ’12 owns the team’s record for lowest goals against average in a season.

The Continentals ended 2011 with four straight wins, including a 9-8 upset of nationally ranked No. 11 Skidmore College, and finished the season with a record of 11-3. The 11 wins were the most for the team since 2006, and they went 7-1 at home. Defense led the way for Hamilton in 2011. The Continentals posted a 6.21 goals against average and a penalty kill percentage of 82.9 percent. Hamilton practiced at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill during spring break.

Hamilton enjoyed plenty of success in the Liberty League from 1996 to 2011. The Continentals ran off six straight winning seasons starting in 2001 and made appearances in the league’s postseason tournament in 2003, 2004 and 2006. Hamilton won the 2003 league title with a 4-1 win against Skidmore and earned a bid to the program’s first NCAA championship. Hamilton posted a record of 10-4 in 2010 and the team was an impressive 7-1 away from home.

2003 was a watershed season for the program. Hamilton won a team-record 15 games and two players earned All-America honors. The Continentals won their first league title and advanced to the NCAA championship for the first time. Hamilton prevailed 11-10 at home in sudden-victory overtime against Eastern Connecticut State University in an NCAA first round game. The Continentals took on national powerhouse SUNY Cortland in the quarterfinals and lost by one goal.

The program was created in 1949 and Hamilton has won more than 300 games since then. Legendary coach Manfred von Schiller guided the Continentals to 184 of those victories from 1960 to 1996. He is ranked in the top 25 on the all-time wins list for men’s lacrosse coaches. Hamilton made three trips to the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) championship under von Schiller. The Continentals made their first postseason appearance in 1975 when Hamilton posted a 9-4 record and played in the ECAC championship. The 1982 and 1983 teams combined to win 24 of 27 games. The Continentals made the ECAC championship and finished with a record of 10-3 in 1988.

Six players have received eight All-America honors since 2002. Attackman Jack Newton ’06 scored 108 goals from 2003 to 2006 and was an All-American after his senior year. Long-stick midfielder Andy Laskowski ’04 and attackman Matt Silverio ’03 garnered two All-America awards apiece. Silverio finished his career as the program’s all-time leader in goals (219) and points (281). He was drafted to play in a professional lacrosse league after graduation. GaryM hood and Don Kepler, Jr. were the program’s first two All-Americans in 1962 and 1963, respectively.

Six student-athletes earned a spot on the 2013 NESCAC Spring All-Academic Team. Each NESCAC all-academic team honoree has a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.35 and must have reached sophomore academic standing at his institution. Fiacco made the USILA Scholar All-American Team after his senior season in 2013. Corbin Brown ’11 formed Hamilton Against Hunger, which donates food not used by campus dining halls to a shelter in Utica.

Founded in 1971, the New England Small College Athletic Conference (NESCAC) is a group of eleven highly selective liberal arts colleges and universities that share a similar philosophy for intercollegiate athletics. The Conference was created out of a concern for the direction of intercollegiate athletic programs, and remains committed to keeping a proper perspective on the role of sport in higher education.

The formation of NESCAC originated with an agreement among Amherst College, Bowdoin College, Wesleyan University and Williams College first drafted in 1955. Along with these four institutions, Bates College, Colby College, Hamilton College, Middlebury College, Trinity College and Tufts University are sustaining charter members. Connecticut College joined in 1982, bringing the Conference’s membership to its current total of 11 institutions.

NESCAC members believe intercollegiate athletic programs should operate in harmony with the educational mission of each institution. The Conference is committed to establishing common boundaries to keep athletics strong but in proportion to the overall academic mission of the member institutions. In pursuit of this mission, the Presidents of each NESCAC institution control intercollegiate athletic policy. Conference tenets are usually more restrictive than those of the NCAA Division III with regard to season length, number of contests and post-season competition.

NESCAC institutions also believe athletic teams should be representative of the entire student body. Thus, admissions and financial policies are consistent with the NCAA Division III policies that prohibit athletic scholarships and award financial aid solely on the basis of need.

In 1999, the NESCAC formally became a playing conference and now sponsors 26 conference championship sports (13 for men and 13 for women). Member schools offer extensive and broad based intercollegiate as well as club and intramural opportunities for both men and women. With member institutions sponsoring an average of nearly 30 varsity programs, NESCAC provides more than 7,500 opportunities for participation in intercollegiate competition at the Division III level. Teams and individuals have achieved great success on both a regional and national level. During the 2012-13 academic year, 52 teams participated in NCAA team championships. NESCAC student-athletes claimed nine individual national championships and NESCAC teams won seven national team championships.
